BILLINGS STUDENT WINS UM SERVICE AWARD

MISSOULA --

Mark McCue of Billings, a senior majoring in organizational communication at The University of Montana-Missoula, was recognized for campus service during UM's annual Charter Day celebration last week.

McCue's work in a host of UM organizations earned him the ASUM Student Service Award from the Associated Students of The University of Montana. He serves as an ASUM senator, a UM Advocate, a University Center Board member and a disc jockey for KBGA, the student radio station on campus. McCue also supervises the busy University Center information desk, which serves as a resource for campus and community.

A 1994 graduate of Billings Central Catholic High School, he is the son of Jolyn McCue of Billings and Dennis McCue of Chesapeake, Va.

McCue's award is one of five presented annually on the day set aside to commemorate UM's charter by the Legislature on Feb. 17, 1893.
